

SDG 4 · QUALITY EDUCATION

Campus Dutch

The Dutch vocabulary of academic life

BUILT WITH BOLT

Rayna Jong, Felix Reichle

Fluent in class, lost in the fine print

- Duolingo-style apps teach everyday conversational Dutch
- Academic life runs on different vocabulary: exam rules, deadlines, teacher emails, grading
- That vocabulary is specific and technical
- No general course covers it

The gap

- General apps: everyday conversational Dutch
- Campus Dutch: exams, rules, deadlines

Understanding exam instructions

Reading academic regulations

Catching a deadline in an email

“University regulations require a very special vocabulary. Basic courses don’t teach it.”

Who Campus Dutch is for International students

- On an English-taught programme
- Comfortable in English day to day
- Still needs Dutch for academic admin

Why not just Duolingo?

- Teaches everyday conversational Dutch
- Skips exam and deadline vocabulary
- Motivation drops without relevance

Low starting point, mixed levels

Zero Dutch or A1/A2, same practical content.

Time-poor

Learning has to fit short pockets between classes.

Motivated by relevance

Sticks with tools that pay off immediately.

Learn it in context. Retain it for real.

Exams

Deadlines & Rules

Teachers & Classes

Grades & Schedules

A learning loop built for retention

1

Learn

- Exam emails, deadline notices
- Translation and pronunciation

2

Practice

- Flashcards, Leitner schedule
- Cards resurface days later

3

Review daily

- Due cards from every topic
- Mixed together for real recall

Where a tool like this can go wrong

False confidence

- Finishing the app can feel like full readiness
- Academic vocabulary is only part of what's needed
- Risk is highest for resit deadlines and appeals

Uneven coverage

- Not checked across every faculty
- Regulations differ by institution